Headline:
Early and late sleet or snow, bright at times west.

Today:
Mostly cloudy across the Lothians and Borders with outbreaks of rain, sleet and snow becoming light and patchy. The west looks drier with bright or sunny spells developing. Outbreaks of rain, and hill snow return to most places later. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
Mostly cloudy with outbreaks of rain and snow, most persistent across the Borders this evening. The rain and snow become patchier overnight, with rain becoming confined to the Galloway coast. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Thursday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of snow, although rain likely on Galloway coast. Snow may become persistent and heavy across the Southern Uplands before clearing east in afternoon. Cold northwesterly wind. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Cold with sunny or clear spells and, mainly across Dumfries and Galloway, snow showers through Friday and the weekend. Occasionally strong northwesterly winds on Friday morning easing. Widespread overnight frosts.
